Some background information

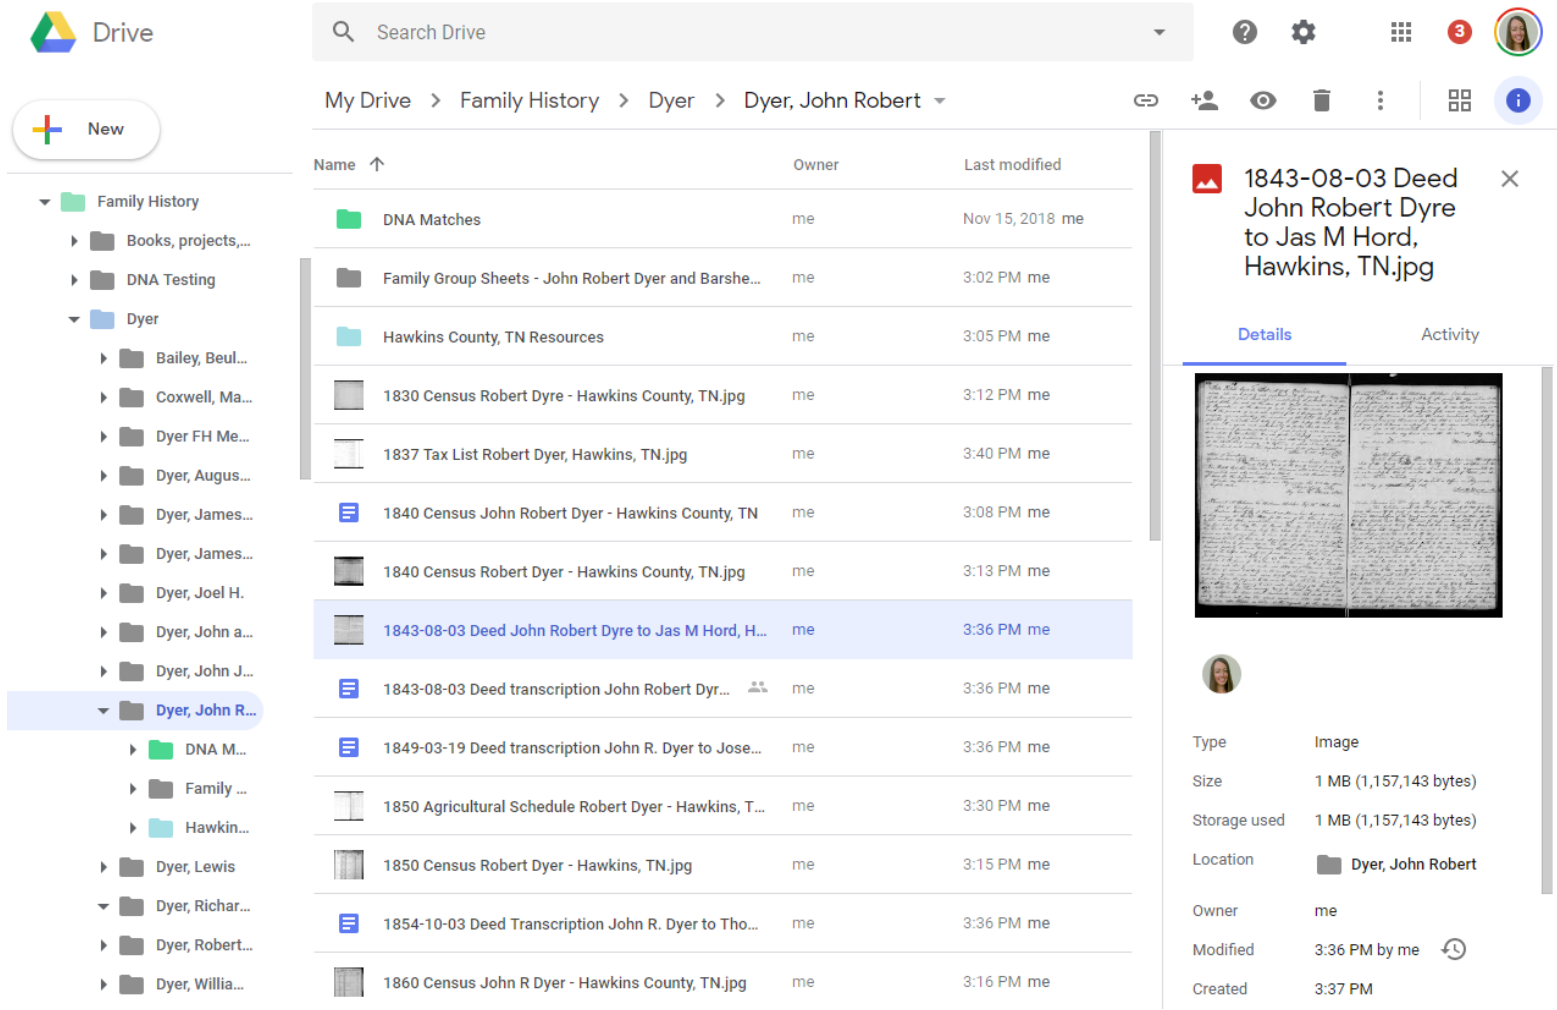
Google Drive:

Cloud Storage for all kinds of files

PHOTOS DOCUMENTS RECORDINGS VIDEOS MORE

About Google Drive

- 15 GB of space free:
- See your files from any smartphone, tablet, or computer
- Easily invite others to view and collaborate on files without an email attachment



Security & Privacy Policy

Cons

- Google scans data in Google Drive for marketing, custom search results, and spam / malware detection
- No way to secure file shares, like password protection
- No private client-side encryption

Pros

- Files are encrypted while in transit from your device to Google data center using transport-layer security and AES 128-bit encryption
- Files are encrypted when stored on its servers
- Two-factor authentication

William Keaton, Father of Lucinda (Keaton) Welch
Research Report

Nicole Dyer
11 June 2018

Objective

The objective of this research project was to determine if William Keaton, born about 1756-1765, was the father of Lucinda Keaton, who was born about 1805 in South Carolina, married George Welch, and resided in Milam, Texas from 1870-1880. William Keaton resided in Pendleton District, South Carolina, in the 1800 U.S. Census.

Known Facts

Prior to the research session, previous research had determined the following:

Fact	Source
William Keaton was born between 1756-1765.	1800 U.S. Census, Pendleton District, South Carolina, Household of William Keaton, p.*34 (stamped), line 504, Image online, Ancestry (https://search.ancestry.com/ : accessed 14 April 2014); citing NARA microfilm publication M32, roll 52, National Archives, Washington D.C. 1810 U.S. Census, Pendleton, South Carolina, Household of Wm Keyton, p. 247 (penned), line 19, Image online, Ancestry (https://search.ancestry.com/ : accessed 14 April 2014); citing NARA microfilm publication M252, roll 61, National Archives, Washington D.C.
William Keaton married Katy Gresham in Pendleton, South Carolina.	"Something about The Gresham, Grisholms, and Halberts," (Atlanta, Georgia) The Constitution, 12 June 1902
William Keaton married Katy Gresham about 1780.	Estimate based on having five children in the 1790 Census.
William Keaton resided in Pendleton County, Ninety Six District, South Carolina in 1790.	1790 U.S. Census, Pendleton District, Ninety Six District, South Carolina, Household of William Keaton, p.*2 (penned), column 2, line 19, Image online, Ancestry (https://search.ancestry.com/ : accessed 14 April 2014); citing NARA microfilm publication M637, roll 11, National Archives.

Pendleton District, South Carolina
Locality Guide

Background

Quick Facts

- Formation: 7 March 1789, Pendleton County, part of overarching Ninety-Six District, was created from Cherokee and Creek Indian Lands and included all of present day Anderson, Pickens, and Oconee Counties.
- District Changes:
  - Ninety-Six District was divided in 1791 and Washington District was created with subordinates Pendleton County and Greenville County.
  - Washington District was renamed Pendleton District in 1798, with subordinates Pendleton County and Greenville County.
  - In 1800 South Carolina abolished overarching administrative court districts and most of the counties became districts. Pendleton County became Pendleton District.
- Abolished: 20 December 1826 Pendleton District was abolished and turned into Anderson District and Pickens District
- District/County Seat:
  - 1789-1791 Abbeville
  - 1791-1800 Pickensville
  - 1800-1826 Pendleton (town), named after US Judge Henry Pendleton

See the Boundary Changes section for more info about the jurisdictions of Pendleton (town) over time.
